City to Replace Sewer Mains at $210,000 Cost

Hope City Board of Directors yesterday voted to call for bids on $210,000 worth of revenue bonds which will be used to replace about 90 per cent of the city's sewer mains.

The bonds will mature in 15 years, and will be callable after five years. Repayment will be made from present city revenues.

This action was taken following a report from Engineer John Hawkins who planned the project. Mr. Hawkins' report indicated 36,196 feet or 6.85 miles of new lines will be laid. This includes some 4,680 feet of 15" pipe.

Mr. Hawkins said today the project might possibly take six months to complete. "It's a mean job and will inconvenience a lot of folks," he said. All the old original mains will be replaced. However, very little of the downtown area will be affected, he said.

In other action the group gave its okay on the installation of a gasoline pump at Finch's Welding Shop on West Third, and ordered the Street Department to erect railings at high downtown corners for the convenience of pedestrians. Some of the corners require several steps to get from the sidewalk to street level.

Auto Graveyard Law Held Legal

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — All Arkansas laws are presumed to be constitutional until tested in court, including a 1961 automobile graveyard law, the attorney general's office said Monday.

The opinion went to Deputy Prosecuting Atty. Julian B. Fogelman who asked in the law, Act 484, could not be construed as taking property without due process. The act requires relocation of any auto graveyard founded since 1955 and located within 1,000 feet of a paved highway.

An attorney general's opinion would not prevent a court contest over the act.

C. B. Garrett Joins Cattle Association

C. B. Garrett

C. Burgess Garrett, a native of Hope, has been named Executive Secretary of the Arkansas Cattlemen's Association, it was announced today by John A. McKnight Jr., Altheimer, president of the organization.

Garrett, a former Vocational Agriculture Teacher, assumed his new duties June 1. As representative of the statewide cattlemen's organization, he will travel throughout Arkansas promoting the interests of the livestock industry.

A graduate of Hope High School, Garrett attended Southern State College, Magnolia and holds a Bachelor of Science degree and a Master of Science degree in Agriculture from Oklahoma State University.

He has been active in several farm organizations and served as president of the Hempstead County Farm Bureau until his resignation last May 15. He has been general superintendent of the Third District Livestock Show in Hope for the past two years, as well as producer of an FFA rodeo for three years.

Garrett has had wide experience in farming and cattle raising. His early years were spent on a cotton and cattle farm near Hope.

For the past five years he has taught Voc Ag and has operated a 500 acre farm near Hope which was primarily a beef cattle operation. He is married and the father of three children. Both he and his wife are members of the Hope First Baptist Church. He will continue to reside in Hope with his family for the next few months, but will maintain an office in Little Rock.

Political Activities Under Probe

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A Civil Service Commission hearing today for five employees of the state Employment Security Division who are accused of violating the federal Hatch Act forbidding political activity.

The five were accused of soliciting campaign funds in behalf of Gov. Orval E. Faubus in last summer's Democratic primary election. All have denied any wrongdoing.

ESD employees come under provisions of the Hatch Act because they are paid partly with federal funds.

The employees are William Watkins, Charles P. Wood, John Cross, Luke Arnett and Robert O. Rainwater, all of the Little Rock area.

If it is ruled that they violated the Hatch Act, they could be dismissed from their jobs.

CSC examiner Howard Hosmer said the testimony would be transcribed and sent to the commission office at Washington, where a decision will be made.

Hosmer said four days had been reserved for the hearing—one for the government and four for the respondents.

Faubus Plans to Go on With Vote on Bonds

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he won't take any action on calling a special session of the Legislature until after June 27, when the people decide on his proposed $60 million bond issue.

But Faubus said it might be assumed that a special session will be needed to allocate $10 to $11 million in surplus funds which were appropriated in his companion $14.5 million omnibus bill.

The Supreme Court Monday ruled the omnibus law unconstitutional by a 4-3 decision.

Faubus previously had said a special session would be needed if either the bond issue or the omnibus bill were struck down.

"I am sure my criticism would be very pleased to see a special session in an atmosphere of uncertainty pending the outcome of the special election," Faubus told newsmen. He charged that these critics were interested in disrupting state services.

Faubus also challenged Forrest Rozzell, Hugh B. Patterson Jr. and Rep. J. H. Cottrell to point out any unneeded items in the omnibus law. Rozzell is executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, Patterson is publisher of the Arkansas Gazette and Cottrell is the man who filed the suit challenging the omnibus act.

"Will the critics of the program say whether or not they intend to cancel funds for the National County, county livestock shows or any other item contained in the appropriations made by the general Assembly?" Faubus asked.

One newsmen noted that if the omnibus money were not reapportioned, the next governor would be in good financial shape. Faubus laughed and said, "Oh, I wouldn't mind that."

The governor only smiled when a newsmen asked if that remark meant he planned to be the next governor, too. Faubus now is serving an unprecedented fourth term. Faubus formally proclaimed June 27 as the date for the bond issue election Monday.

12 Teachers Going Back to School

Twelve members of the Hope administrative and teaching staff are pursuing advanced degrees in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Oklahoma and Texas during their summer vacation.

HHS Principal Jack Bealy and Assistant Principal Gordon Beasley will continue their studies at East Texas State Teachers. They have attended Saturday classes this semester. Coach Billy Mitchell has a National Science Foundation Scholarship to study mathematics at this school.

Mrs. F. J. Burroughs will study earth science on a NSF scholarship at the U of Alabama. Accompanying her will be her daughter Pat, who is a sophomore at Ouachita College.

Mrs. Martha Brashier will also be enrolling under a NSF scholarship at Arkansas State College, Jonesboro, to study botany and geology.

Specializing in elementary math under a NSF is Mrs. Muriel Dickinson at Southeast State College, Durant, Okla.

At Henderson State Teachers, College those continuing work on advanced degrees are Mrs. Ruby Baber, Mrs. Helen Hatch, Mrs. Muriel McLarty, Miss Vivian Ross and W. D. Sullivan.

Mrs. P. J. Holt plans to enter Florida State University.

Mrs. Brashier and Mrs. R. B. McPherson will attend graduation exercises at Kansas City Medical School when Don Brashier receives his degree this month.

Mrs. W. A. Williams and Mr. Williams will visit their daughter Jacquie at Lakewood School, Los Angeles, before school closes this month. They will then tour the West before returning to Hope.

Body of Child Taken From River

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Searchers today found the body of a 4-year-old boy in the White River where he disappeared Monday.

The body of Gary Chapel was discovered about three-fourths of a mile from where he vanished while swimming with some other children.

Motor Vehicle Petitions Are Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Petitions to refer the 1961 Motor Vehicle Commission Act to a popular vote were filed Monday and at least two other groups are working toward the midnight Wednesday filing deadline.

Ed Cochran, president of the Arkansas Independent Automobile Dealers Association, delivered petitions with 52,734 names to the secretary of state's office to get the Motor Vehicle Commission law, Act 199, placed on the 1962 general election ballot.

Sponsors of the other two petition movements have predicted they will obtain the minimum 25,319 signatures needed for referral before the deadline.

Attorney Henry Woods filed 3,438 signatures on petitions asking referral of an act repealing the railroad lookout statute. Monday's filing brought Woods' total to 21,481.

Rep. G. D. Smith of Star City reported Saturday he has more than 22,000 names on petitions seeking referral of the 1961 congressional redistricting act.

Success in the petition campaign will suspend effectiveness of the laws until they can be voted on. An unfavorable vote will kill them.

Act 199 sets up a Motor Vehicle Commission and gives it regulatory authority over the state's auto industry.

Twice before the legislature has passed a motor vehicle Commission Act only to have it invalidated by the courts.

Schools to Test Ability of Drivers

Hempstead County school districts will require all their bus drivers to take a drivers' test before the start of school next year, it was announced by Mrs. Ernest Graham, safety director.

The first four schools to make the tests office include Hope, Blewins, Palmos and Spring Hill. The rest are expected to make it mandatory at the next board meetings. All have indicated approval of the program in which all drivers must pass tests.

Union Votes on Hospital Bonds

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Union County voters today on a proposed $144,000 bond issue to help finance a county hospital.

The proposal carries with it a 2½-mill tax. It is contingent on obtaining $770,000 in federal aid funds for the project.

The proposed county hospital would have 100 beds.

Clouthing the issue is last week's announcement by the privately operated Warner Brown Hospital of a $2 million expansion program to add 100 beds for a total of 250.

Only one of the two projects would be eligible for federal funds. An impartial board would have to decide which can get the money if the bond issue is approved.

More Freedom Riders Land in Jackson Jail

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven more "Freedom Riders" headed for Jackson, Miss., by bus today and others planned new moves by air to test Mississippi segregation laws despite threats of stiffer punishment.

Five white persons and two Negroes left New Orleans by bus at 6:25 a.m. today and were due in Jackson at 11:25 a.m. (CST).

Newell Weber of East Orange, N.J., spokesman for the group, said they expected to be arrested in Jackson and would serve out their fines in the city or county jail.

The first fly-in to test barriers was expected later. The integrationists were scheduled to leave St. Louis, Mo., for Jackson via a regularly-scheduled Delta Airlines flight.

Plans were announced for students from a half-dozen cities to leave Louisville, Ky., early next week for Freedom Rides to several southern cities.

Thirteen more riders were convicted in Jackson Monday raising the total to 65 since the first wave arrived May 24.

None has been charged with violating segregation laws. All were fined $200 and given 60-day suspended sentences on breach of peace charges. The maximum penalty on that charge is a $200 fine and four months in jail.

City Attorney Jack Travis said he would demand penalties for future riders and added that other charges might be filed against them.

"The city and state have done all they can to uphold the laws since these so-called riders have come to Mississippi," Travis said. "It appears that a conspiracy, plan or plot exists to completely break down the laws of the state."

Most riders have elected to stay in jail to work out their fines at $3 a day. Some have started hunger strikes to expiate their protests over segregation.

Three Cornell University students, all white, broke their hunger strike Monday night. The three, Charles A. Haynie, 25, Douglass, Queens, N.Y.; Paul Green, 22, New York City; and Joe H. Griffith, 26, Corpus Christi, Tex. had fasted since May 31.

Their decision to resume eating left five white and three Negro prisoners still refusing food.

One of the 13 convicted Monday was the Rev. Richard Glean, 24, a white Baptist minister from the Bible Witness Mission in Chicago. He announced he had broken connections with the Freedom Riders because they included atheists, persons with police records and some who talked of communism.

Minister of Hope Named a Secretary

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The 108th annual Little Rock Conference of the Methodist Church starts regular business and worship sessions here today.

More than 500 ministers and laymen are attending the meeting at the First Methodist Church.

Bishop Arthur J. More, now retired, of Atlanta, starts a series of daily worship services this morning.

The five-day conference opened Monday night with a memorial service for five ministers and two ministers' wives who have died since last year's meeting.

"The reward of the ministry is in the spirit and it is in the spirit that we remember deceased persons connected with the church," said Dr. James W. Workman of Little Rock in the memorial sermon.

The Rev. James Major of Little Rock, conference secretary, named five ministers to serve as assistant secretaries for the coming year. They are the Rev. W. W. Smith of Hope, the Rev. H. K. Davis of Stamps, the Rev. Kenneth Spore of Monticello, the Rev. V. C. Bell of Stephens and the Rev. Everett Vinson of Nashville.

Bishop W. Kenneth Pope, head of the church in Arkansas, met Monday with district superintendents to discuss pastoral assignments which will be announced at close of the conference Friday.

The Little Rock Conference includes most Methodist churches in south and east Arkansas.

Kennedy Returns Home, to Report to Nation Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy returned home today from his series of summit level conferences abroad and prepared to report to the nation tonight on the results of his trip.

In a nationwide television and radio broadcast at 6 p.m. EST, Kennedy planned to brief the country on his meetings with Soviet Premier Khrushchev, President Charles de Gaulle of France and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

In tonight's talk, Kennedy is expected to deal largely in generalities in reporting his conversations with Khrushchev. But it seemed certain that he will reaffirm the West's determination to stand solidly against any new Communist thrusts in Berlin and other danger spots.

Members of Congress—divided between hope and skepticism—are eagerly awaited Kennedy's report.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned to America this morning after a "very fine trip" to see leaders in Europe. He will make a report to the nation tonight.

Kennedy arrived at Andrews Air Force Base at 9:33 a.m. after a week during which he saw Soviet Premier Khrushchev, French President Charles de Gaulle and Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The President stepped from his jet plane to a small but warm welcome at the airport. Congressional leaders of both parties, diplomats and administration officials greeted the returning chief.

Kennedy walked down the receiving line and shook hands with each of the approximately 70 people in it.

Then, in a show of bipartisanship, he took both Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, and Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to his waiting helicopter to ride with him to the White House, 15 miles away.

At the executive mansion, Kennedy planned to work during the day on the speech he will broadcast at 6 p.m. Eastern Standard Time tonight. It will be carried by all major television and radio networks.

Kennedy, who seemed relatively buoyant despite the arduous on his trip, made no speech at the airfield.

No Law Against Removing Grave

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—No state law requires removal of the tomb of William H. (Colon) Harvey and his son from Monte Ne before waters of Beaver Dam Reservoir cover them, the attorney general's office said Monday.

The decision on whether the graves will be relocated rests with relatives of Harvey and his son, Robert, Asst. Atty. Gen. Dennis Horton said in an opinion to the State Board of Health.

Dr. J. T. Herron, state health officer, said Harvey's relatives were not adverse to inundation of the tomb but they have not reached a final decision.

Harvey founded a health resort at Monte Ne after a spectacular career as a promoter and economist. He intended to build a pyramid to house mementoes of this civilization, which he believed was doomed.

The project was never completed and since has become a tourist attraction.

State Youths Held for Burglaries

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP) — Three Arkansas teenagers, two girls and a boy, are held in the Pittsburg County Jail here as officers checked their confessions to a series of burglaries in eight states.

Sheriff Clarence Hurt identified the three as George Braden Shirley, 19, Peggy Louise Ellis Curry, 19, and Pat Paulette Curry, 16, all of Searcy, Ark.

Hurt said all three are charged with robbery with firearms in the holdup of a service station here May 21.

The sheriff said Bobby Joe Ellis, 24, of Searcy, was arrested in West Plains, Mo., Monday and another youth, William Joe Ellis, 24, Searcy, still is being sought.

The sheriff said the trio held here was arrested May 23 at Ada, Okla., following an attempted robbery there. He said the Ellis men fled at that time.

Their relationship, if any, was not known here.

Hurt said Oklahoma Crime Bureau agents took Shirley to Stigler, Okla., last Saturday and he gave them information that led to the recovery of a stolen car from the Stigler Lake. The car was stolen in Yukon, Okla.

Crime Bureau Agent Lyle Smith said Shirley and the two girls confessed burglaries in Oklahoma, Arkansas, South Carolina, Missouri, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

Morrilton Votes on Manager Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Morrilton votes today on whether to adopt city manager government or retain the mayor council form.

Both sides on the issue predict a heavy vote.

LI. Gov. Nathan Gordon told a rally Monday that city manager government is undemocratic and Morrilton is too small to support it.

Gordon said a vote against the proposal would enable the people to retain the right to vote in affairs of city government.

The election has been bitterly contested from the start. A new slate of election officials was named Saturday as a result of a suit filed by proponents of city manager government.

The suit contended many members of the original set of officials were ineligible to serve. Circuit Judge Audrey Strait said they were eligible but he ordered a new slate drawn to hold down bitterness.

After his kitchen experiment looked promising, Scott worked for weeks at the University of Arkansas Graduate Institute of Technology here making tests to prove and improve his process.

Scott says he's not positive that his invention is commercially feasible. But if it is "I imagine I'll get good royalties."

And the science fair which prompted his original search? Scott didn't enter. He was afraid he wouldn't be able to get a patent if he unveiled his process too soon.

Proclamation
for Election
Is Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.
Orval E. Faubus Monday filed an official proclamation setting an election on a proposed $60 million bond issue for June 27.

Secretary of State Nancy Hall said she would move immediately to send notices of the election date to county newspapers as required by law. Notice must be published 15 days before the election date.

Faubus announced the election date last Friday, but Mrs. Hall could not proceed until she had the official proclamation.

Ann R. Retenbury, Hazardous

The bond proposal is linked with the 1961 omnibus law, invalidated
by the Arkansas Supreme Court
Monday, in Faubus' $76 million state expenditures program.

Faubus declined to speculate how the court ruling on the omnibus law might effect the bond issue vote.

The governor has said he would call a special session of the legislature either if the bond issue fails or if the court struck down the omnibus law. He wouldn't discuss a possible date for the special session Monday.

The bond proposal would provide funds for major construction at the State Hospital, University of Arkansas, seven state colleges

Mrs. Clyde Dale Zinn

Miss Betty Marie Oliphant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Z. Oliphant, Norman, Oklahoma, became the bride of Clyde Dale Zinn on June 4, 1961, in the Wesley Collegiate Chapel, Norman.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clyde Zinn and the late Mr. Zinn of Hope.

The altar of the church was decorated with a white wedding basket of white gladioli and daisy white iris with a background of emerald greenery.

The couple repeated their vows before the Rev. E. F. Hallock of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Charles C. Baker, sister of the bride, was organist, and Mrs. Frank White sang the "Lord's Prayer" by Malotte, and Mrs. Robert Hughes sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" by Gounod.

Miss Jane Oliphant was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of light yellow was fashioned with a full skirt and princess bodice with puffed sleeves, and the belt was trimmed in front with a double bow. She wore a headband of yellow petals and carried a bouquet of daisies.

Mrs. Robert Huskey and Mrs. Dee Oliphant, sister-in-law of the bride, both of Norman, were bridesmaids. They were gowned identically to the honor attendant, and also carried bouquets of daisies.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of imported rose-point lace. The sweetheart neckline and brief sleeves of the princess bodice were outlined with scallops of the lace.

A wide band of white taffeta banded the full skirt that fell to a chapel train caught at the back with a large bow. Her veil of illusion fell from a Swedish crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis, tied with white satin ribbon.

James Compton, cousin of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Robert Denton, Norman, and William Perkins, Hope. Ushers were L. Dee Oliphant, D. Michael Ingles, Oklahoma City, and Dwight Pfennig, Hobart.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Oliphant chose a sheath gown of pink peau de soie trimmed in lace with matching hat and accessories, and a corsage of white orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath gown of blue linen with matching hat and accessories, with a white orchid corsage.

A wedding reception in the Wesley Collegiate Student Center lounge followed the ceremony. Those assisting at the reception were: Miss Ann Standeven, Miss Susan Schmeine, Mrs. LeMar Wade, all of Oklahoma City; Mrs. Don Nicholson, Mrs. Don Sherwood, Miss Carolyn Hager, Miss Linda Lockett, Miss Margaret Ward, Mrs. Wray Littlejohn, Mrs. Frank Martin, all of Norman; and Mrs. Robert Clary, Chicago Ill.

For a wedding trip to Hot Springs, the bride wore a beige and white plaid suit with matching hat and accessories and orchid corsage.

The couple will establish a home in Vallejo, California, where the groom will be stationed at Mare Island Naval Nuclear Power School as an ensign in the U. S. Navy.

DOROTHY DIX

'In Law' Love and Rivalry

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: No matter what we mother-in-laws give, do or say, we're in the doghouse. Young wives of today carry tales of imaginary slights to their husbands against their mothers. The quiet ones are the most deadly.

The time has come when daughter-in-law need a stiff talking-to. The son's eyes should be opened to the grief these trouble-makers cause. The wife's mother can talk as she pleases but let the husband's mother say anything and she's a dead duck. I've had it! —B. S.

Dear B. S.: There are good and bad daughters-in-law, just as there are good and bad people everywhere in life. Understand that many young wives regard mothers-in-law as competitors for their husband's affection and attention. And don't forget that many mothers regard daughters-in-law as rivals for their son's love!

Reconcile yourself to the fact that when a son marries, his wife thereafter comes first. For his own happiness, make sure his wife has no cause to think that you are a rival. In time she will come to respect you, to share her children with you and, if you can make her see you are her second mother, to love you.

Dear Helen: We have a wonderful family life but—there are the in-laws and therein lies my trouble. My daughter-in-law's folks were brought up differently from ours. They split my folks up the back when talking to friends. They remember their family anniversaries but forget ours, yet Mother and Dad help them and feast them and love them. Shouldn't they practice the Golden Rule? —Disgusted

Dear Disgusted: Your in-laws suffer from the familiar complaint of envy, jealousy and selfishness. Added up this spells insecurity. The very fact that your family is more generous and outgoing than your daughter-in-laws people, puts them at a disadvantage. Instead of wisely matching kindness for kindness, they try to justify their weaknesses by being cussed which of course is no solution. Let your family continue to practice the Golden Rule and they

Dear Helen: I, too, am one of those "terrible mothers-in-law." When my son married I thought my daughter-in-law would become family but alas, she remained distant. I made up my mind to keep my mouth shut if it killed me, which it almost did.

Years have passed. My daughter-in-law's ways are now my ways and I can truthfully say: May my other children pick mates as dear and sweet as she! One of the happiest moments of my life occurred recently when, for the second time I met her mother and heard my daughter-in-law address her as "Mother." You see, she calls me "Mom."

Dear Mother-in-law: Personal relationships, whether with in-laws or friends, should never be forced. Only those which mature slowly and with reserve are lasting. Time should be taken to become better acquainted slowly, to adjust ourselves gradually to the ways of others and above all to permit the seeds of loyalty, understanding and trust in one another, to grow.

Send your problems to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and addresser care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Mother-in-law."

FASTEST GUN By Chalmers Delong West

Marshal Tom's skill with a six-gun, and his showman-like bluff enforced the law in Longhorn Valley.

Each Saturday night, in the Alhambra Saloon, Marshal Tom demonstrated this aptitude to the local gentry, a great many of whom were known as extremely rapid with guns themselves. As a result of these demonstrations, Marshal Tom was treated with respect and no one had the courage to challenge him.

The officer's stunt was to balance a whisky glass on the back of his right hand, which he held extended in front of his chest. Then he would jerk his hand from under the glass, draw his sidearm and shoot of the neck of a bottle at the end of the bar before the glass hit the floor.

The trick was hard on whisky glasses, but good for law and order.

Only one person disliked these exhibitions. This was Sunset Sam, who had recently been humiliated by Marshal Tom, who took away Sam's guns and tossed him in jail for shooting out the windows of the mercantile store. This was hard on Sam's reputation as a big man around town.

Being cautious and knowing the marshal's skill, Sam didn't undertake to avenge this wrong immediately. He wished to perfect the speed of the draw until he had at least a fighting chance to outgun the intrepid lawman, Marshal Tom.

Sam bought two dozen whisky glasses and began to practice far from town on the open prairie.

He used up half of the glasses and noted with almost as much speed as Marshal Tom had demonstrated. By the time he had broken all the glasses he was shooting faster than the marshal, except once.

One time he shot off the little toe of his right foot.

Sam explained it was an accident and waited till the toe healed but kept himself in shape by using tin cans and other objects instead of whisky glasses.

He quickly picked up whatever speed he had lost during his convalescence.

At last he decided he was proficient enough to face Marshal Tom in a duel and he swaggered down Longhorn Valley's main street, shooting out windows indiscriminately.

Marshal Tom rose to the bait. "Drop your gun, Sam," said he, as he emerged from his office. "You ain't the one to ever learn anything are you?"

"I've learnt a lesson, all right," said Sam. "A lesson in fast draw. I can outdraw you, Marshal Tom!"

"Do tell?" said the marshal who was the kind of man who liked to persuade first and shoot last in the interest of peace and a minimum of bloodshed. "Now let's not be hasty or say things that we'll regret. Just gimme your gun."

"If you want my gun, come and get it, you wall-eyed skunk," said Sam, which was the kind of talk no marshal ever takes.

Sam started his draw, which he knew was faster than Marshal Tom's. The marshal started a split second late, but when the smoke cleared away, the marshal was standing and Sam was lying down.

Marshal Tom blew the smoke out of his gun barrel. "Skill in drawin' a hawlgain is mighty important," he said, "but good shootin' is more so. I figured Sam shot off his little toe while practicing to beat me, and I wasn't worried because all he was tryin' to learn was how to draw fast—not how to shoot straight."

They buried Sam on Boot Hill. (THE END)

Indians Close Within Game of the Tigers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians closed within one game of front-running Detroit in the American League race by beating Washington 7-5 for their seventh straight victory Monday night while the Chicago White Sox beat the Tigers 8-0.

Reliever Barry Latman won his fourth with four innings of two-hit, shutout relief for the Tribe, and broke a 5-5 tie with a triple.

New York swept a two-night doubleheader from Minnesota 6-1 and 6-2, the Los Angeles Angels defeated Baltimore 3-0 on the six-hit pitching of Ron Moeller and Kansas City split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 10-6 after the Red Sox took the opener 6-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati defeated Milwaukee 5-3 and climbed back on top by a half-game over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who were beaten 5-2 by Pittsburgh. Philadelphia dropped San Francisco to third, 3-2, and St. Louis out-slugged Chicago's Cubs 10-8.

The Indians, after blowing 3-0 and 5-3 leads behind starter Johnny Antonelli and Bobby Locke, finally made it with two unearned runs in the seventh at Washington against losing reliever John Gabler (2-2). Latman's two-out triple triggered the rally and gave the bullpen three victories and three saves in the Tribe's seven-game streak.

Cleveland collected 15 hits—including a 4-for-4 show by the three pitchers—with Jimmy Piersall cracking a triple and three

Pirates Knock Dodgers Out of Nat'l Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates, with Vern Law winning his first in more than a month, defeated Los Angeles 5-2 and knocked the Dodgers out of the National League lead Monday night. Cincinnati regained first place, by a half game, with a 5-3 victory over Milwaukee.

Last place Philadelphia dropped San Francisco to third, 3-2, and St. Louis out-slugged the Chicago Cubs 10-8.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox defeated Detroit 8-0, shaving the Tigers' lead to one game over the second-place Cleveland Indians, who won their seventh in a row with a 7-5 decision at Washington. New York took two from Minnesota, 6-1 and 6-2; the Los Angeles Angels beat Baltimore 3-0, and Kansas City split a doubleheader at Boston, winning 10-6 after the Red Sox won the opener 6-2.

Law, bothered by a sore shoulder and home runs, avoided both troubles at Los Angeles. He gave up eight hits and blew a 2-0 lead, but then singled home the tie-breaker in the sixth against losing reliever Ron Perranoski (3-1) before giving way to a pinchhitter, Elroy Face then saved it, with two-innings of one-hit, shutout relief. Bill Mazeroski and Smokey Burgess homered for the Pirates, who collected 13 hits.

The Reds came from behind and beat Lew Burdette (4-5) with a three-run eighth inning on homers by Frank Robinson and Jerry Lynch. Robinson singled and Lynch doubled as they scored Cincinnati's first two in the second inning on a single by Gordie Coleman after the Braves had counted three in the first on home runs by Ed Mathews and Joe Adcock. Joey Jay, a former Brave, worked the first seven innings, blanking Milwaukee on one hit over the last six. Jim Busman (2-1) then won it in relief, with help from Bill Henry in the ninth.

A six-run seventh inning, triggered by Carl Sawatsky's two-run homer and capped by Bill White's grand slam, brought the Cardinals from behind. Maury McDermott, gaining his first NL decision, was the winner in relief. Ed Bouchee and Ernie Banks homered for the Cubs. The losing pitcher was reliever Joe Schafertown (0-3).

Robin Roberts, who had lost his first seven decisions, beat the Giants with a six-hit job. Chuck Hiller hit a two-run homer for San Francisco in the second inning, but then put the tying run on base with an error ahead of Pancho Herrera's winning three-run homer in the third. Mike McCormick (5-3) was the loser, dropping his third in a row.

Macon Tops Travelers by 7-4 Tally

It's a cinch the Nashville Vols wouldn't be in the Southern Association second division struggling to reach the .500 level if they played a few more doubleheaders.

In seven doubleheaders to date, the Vols boast an 11-3 record which is a pennant-winning clip in any league. Disregarding the twin bills, they are stumbling at a .349 clip which is somewhere in the neighborhood of the cellar by any reckoning.

The Vols used their specialty, the doubleheader sweep, Monday night to tighten their grip on fifth place when they downed Mobile 2-0 and 6-4. It was their fourth sweep in seven doubleheaders and their second in three days. They split the other three twin bills.

Both front runners were knocked off when Atlanta whipped pace-setting Chattanooga 3-1 and Shreveport beat runnerup Birmingham 7-4. Macon rallied behind the strong relief pitching of Whammy Douglas and topped Little Rock 7-4, so Atlanta was the lone first-division winner.
